

European Monitoring Centre on Change

European Foundation for the Improvement of Living and Working Conditions

European Monitoring Centre on Change

www.emcc.eurofound.eu.int

EMCC

OBJECTIVE

To promote an understanding of how to anticipate and manage industrial change.

ROLE

- Gather information on the major drivers behind industrial change
- Study the process of change within sectors
- Facilitate access to relevant information sources
- Increase knowledge through the exchange of information and experience

KEY FOCUS

- Restructuring and competitiveness
- Employment
- Skills and qualifications
- Work organisation and management
- Corporate social responsibility

TARGET AUDIENCE

- Company managers and employees representatives
- Employers organisations and trade unions at local level
- Local and regional authorities
- European social partners at national and European level
- Policymakers at all levels
- Researchers and consultants
- Business schools and management trainers

EMCC highlights

PORTAL

- Web-based dissemination and information tool
- Focus for community building and online exchange
- Rich source of links to relevant EU and international data
- Free access and search facilities

MONITORING ACTIVITIES

- European Restructuring Monitor – unique restructuring fact file
- Sector Futures – forward-looking sector analyses
- EMCC Dossiers – regular reports on pertinent policy issues

COMPANY NETWORK SEMINARS AND WORKSHOPS

- Forum for debate and exchange of expertise
- Framework for establishing a high-level company network
- Practical, future-oriented perspective

RESEARCH STUDIES

- In-depth data and analysis on change-related issues
- Specialised industry case studies and evaluation
- Long-term sectoral forecasts

EMCC

In 1997, the European Council called for a high-level group to examine the economic and social implications of industrial change. With the full support of the European Parliament, Commission and social partners, it proposed the creation of the European Centre on Monitoring Change (EMCC) within the European Foundation for the Improvement of Living and Working Conditions.

The EMCC's mission is to cast a spotlight on the economic and social developments that drive change in the European economy. It highlights changes resulting from shifts in technology, work organisation, production and business models, legislation, working practices and the labour market. Using research and analysis, EMCC provides companies, the social partners, public authorities and European institutions with the data and qualitative information they need in order to manage the consequences of such change.

European Monitoring Centre on Change

You can join the EMCC network by logging on to the portal
www.emcc.eurofound.eu.int

Information liaison officer: Gregorio De Castro emcc@eurofound.eu.int

The European Monitoring Centre on Change is a project of the European Foundation for the Improvement of Living and Working Conditions. The Foundation is a European Union agency established to provide advice and analysis on social policy issues to EU policymakers.

Wyattville Road, Loughlinstown, Dublin 18, Ireland
Tel: (353 1) 204 31 00 Fax: (353 1) 282 42 09/282 64 56 e-mail: postmaster@eurofound.eu.int website: www.eurofound.eu.int